By George Frederick Gundelfinger

Forgotten Books, United States, 2016. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from The Great Reliever: A Four-Act Play Scene - A Special Private Room in a Hospital. It is the last room on the side of a hall which terminates in a sun-parlor. The doorway into the hall is at the extreme left front of the stage. It is a large doorway - large enough to admit a bed. There are a framed set of rules on the back of the door. When the door stands open (the hinges being on the far side), one gets a glimpse into the sun-parlor, which is furnished in wicker. On the far side of this door there is an electric bracketlamp. A mahogany chair stands under it. Against the wall of the room, on the far side of the chair, stands a mahogany dresser; on it are two empty glass vases and a small tumbler of antiseptic solution in which there is a thermometer. There is a wastebasket between the dresser and the chair. The extreme rear of the room is in the form of an alcove. Against the wall...
